OPPOSITION TO DAKOTA'S ADMISSION DEVELOPED.

[illegible] to be Made in Passenger Rates [illegible] East Railroads—Patti Engaged to Sing in New York.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

[illegible] York, Feb. 2.—The Herald has an editorial [illegible] mission of Dakota to statehood, wherein it [illegible] with the rotten borough of Nevada before [illegible] as a monument of deceit, the New York [illegible] representative who votes to invest the [illegible] habitants of Dakota with an equality with [illegible] inhabitants of New York in the federal [illegible]ly defrauds and belies his own constitu- [illegible] he can find a better reason for his vote [illegible] explanation that the two senators to be [illegible] from the new state will be republicans in partisan politics, and will give that control of the upper branch of congress. [illegible]y other reason? None is avowed in any. It is not alleged that Dakota is suffering in [illegible]cular by reason of a territorial government. [illegible] scheme is the product of a conspiracy, financial and partly political, and the con- [illegible] count upon the partisan needs and interest of the republican party for its success. When [illegible]kota is mature enough for a state no selfish [illegible] on the part of New York will stand across [illegible], but its admission under the present circumstances and from present motives will be infamous.

New York Protests.

[illegible] York, Feb. 2.—Chickering hall was densely [illegible] last night by citizens and their wives and [illegible]ters, who came to listen to addresses by [illegible], without distinction of creed, expressing [illegible]y with the persecuted Hebrews in Russia. [illegible] presided, and a large number of New [illegible] distinguished citizens were chosen [illegible]idents. Many occupied seats on the platform, and among others were Hamilton Fish, ex- [illegible] Robert Bonner, J. L. Kennedy, Hugh [illegible] Edwards Pierrepont and Wm. Dowd. [illegible] resolutions were adopted friendly in tone [illegible], but earnestly protesting against the [illegible]humanities toward Jews. Evarts, Noah [illegible] several clergymen spoke.

[illegible] Rates Established.

[illegible] Feb. 1.—The trunk lines executive [illegible] acting as a standing committee of the [illegible] committee, to-day at Commissioner [illegible] resolved that first and second class pas- [illegible] and west bound shall be restored [illegible] basis on February 6th: Chicago [illegible] limited, $20; unlimited, $23 25, except [illegible] and Baltimore & Ohio, which shall [illegible] class by all lines, $17. New Eng- [illegible] be made on a basis of $22 for lim- [illegible] to Boston, via all routes crossing [illegible] north of New York city. New Eng- [illegible] New York city shall be made by [illegible] New York rates, as above, the local [illegible] York by the route tickets, together [illegible] transfer in all cases.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Sargent's Expectancy.

New York, Feb. 2.—A Herald's Washington has the following on cabinet [illegible]: The rules not for [illegible] a number of years been so [illegible] persistent booming of [illegible] for a cabinet position as has been going on here for four or five weeks about the supposed prospects of Sargent of California being called to the head of the interior department. The day for his nomination has been publicly or privately set by his friends at least half a dozen times, and there has been an almost daily assertion that he was certain to have the place. Sargent, it is generally understood, has himself given frequent semi-public assurances to his friends to this effect. To-day being the 1st of February it was ascertained most positively that the president would send in his name, but it has not been done. This much is certain: all rumors, reports and assertions of Sargent's coming greatness have come, not from the white house, but from a circle of Sargent's friends and hangers on. There is no publicly known reason, except reports of Sargent's friends, to believe that he has been thought of by the president for the place.

A Tremendous Sum.

The commissioner of pensions answering to the house resolution for information as to the amount of appropriation required annually to pay pensions for the next 25 years, says: If all claims for pensions arising from the war of the rebellion shall be adjudicated within the seven years period terminating June 30, 1888, and if, at the end of that period the survivors of the war with Mexico, and their widows, shall then be pensioned at $8 per month, the commissioner estimates the amounts required for 25 years ending with 1906, at $1,317,551,593, of which $1,264,229,977 are rebellion claims filed after June 30, 1880, and $51,921,616 Mexican war claims. The amounts grow gradually less annually from $62,000,000 to $23,000,000.

A Highly Moral Organ Wanted.

A Washington special says: The sale of the National Republican has been arranged, and the transfer of ownership will be made Saturday. The purchasers are stated to be a number of republicans who want to see President Arthur's administration provided with an organ which shall be free from taint of star route ownership. It is thought possible that Geo. C. Gorham will be retained upon the paper, though not probably as editor-in-chief. The first assistant postmaster general is talked of for that place.

Oregon Petitions.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Representative Page presented to-day several Oregon petitions, praying that the Astoria land grant be declared forfeited unless the road is built within two years; that part of the Dalles military reservation be donated to the German reformed church for religious purposes, and that taxes on bank deposits and the check stamp law be repealed.

A New Land District.

The senate public lands committee have agreed to recommend the passage of Senator Hill's bill to create the Durango land district in southwestern Colorado.

Fate of the Funding Bill.

The prevalent opinion in the best informed circles regarding the fate of the three per cent. funding bill is that a majority of senators will ultimately combine to defeat it. This majority is expected to be made up of the large minority who voted for rejection of the Vest amendment, reinforced by Sherman and other original friends of the bill who believe that it has been made a dangerous measure by the adoption of Plumb's amendment.

Blaine Ready for Business.

Blaine holds that the controversy he is now engaged in concerning the government's policy with reference to South America was forced upon him and he is fully prepared to maintain his position. He will fight back whenever and wherever he is struck, and his friends insist that time will soon develop the wisdom of his policy. Naturally the public are not disposed openly to take sides in the controversy, but the ex-secretary has received and is daily receiving assurances of strong support.

Washington Notes.

Senator Saunders, chairman of the senate committee on territories, has decided to report a separate bill for the division of Dakota territory and keep that measure apart from the question of admitting the southern portion of the territory into the union. The question of admission of the new state will be brought up after the matter of division shall have been disposed of.

Mormons vs. Polygamists.

Consideration of the Mormon question by congress is about to receive a fresh impetus through the presence in the city of a committee appointed by the general conference of the "reorganized church of Christ of latter day saints" to wait upon the president and congress and present their version of the Utah problem and their proposed solution. Z. H. Garley and E. L. Kelly constitute this committee, and yesterday they were presented to President Arthur by Representative Kasson, and had an extensive conference with him. They have prepared a memorial which will soon be laid before both houses of congress, and which they think will not only remove some false impressions which obtain with reference to the Mormon church, but will facilitate true appreciation of the Utah problem and perhaps suggest a solution of it. Their memorial sets forth that the Mormon church, although classed and known generally as "Mormon," is and ever has been opposed to and uncompromising with that polygamist body in Utah also called Mormons. The reorganized Mormon church, under the leadership of Joseph Smith, son of the original Mormon head, and duly organized and incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois, has steadily for the past 30 years opposed and denounced the doctrines and practices of polygamy. It has all the time kept and sustained missionaries in Utah to preach against them, the result being that at least 10,000 persons in that territory have thus been extricated from the corruption of polygamy and its concomitant ills. They ask that more effective measures be enacted and carried into effect by the government for the suppression of polygamy in territories. The Mormon church, says this memorial, has in round numbers 600 organized churches, 450 of which are in the United States, with a ministry of 1500 persons and membership of 20,000 communicants, and 20,000 others who sustain the church in its work. Nine-tenths of these are citizens of the United States and loyal to the government. The memorial discusses at some length the legal questions involved, and quotes from the Book of Mormon to show that polygamy is not a part of Mormonism, but on the contrary is expressly prohibited, and urges that the truest point from which to deal with polygamy is that it is no part of the Mormon faith proper, but a loathsome incumbrance. This, they say, will prevent those who practice polygamy from raising the cry of persecution, and thereby holding with them thousands of honest, ignorant souls of their number in Utah who are not actually engaged in the practice of this crime, and who would otherwise repudiate it and become good citizens. The memorial suggests additional legislation by congress, so that avowed bigamists may not be allowed to sit as jurors when one of their number is being tried for bigamy; that the statute of limitation be so amended that all persons, male and female, may be punished for the crime of polygamy; that the homestead law be so amended that polygamous wives shall not be recognized under the title of "heads of families"; and that the reputation of living together and cohabitating be received in courts as evidence to prove the marriage relation.

Reported Adversely.

The adverse report of the committee on postoffices and post roads on Senator Logan's bill to restore the franking privilege, occasioned astonishment, as it was known that the members of the committee were individually in favor of a return to the former system. Inquiry among members disclosed the fact that the committee was annoyed at the charges of being too slow in acting upon matters referred to it, and as a demand was made for an immediate report, the committee concluded to make an adverse one on the pending bill, and then take time to draw up a bill in accordance with the views of the committee. There is but one opinion in the committee, which is that some kind of a bill to return to the franking privilege should be passed. The action taken to-day by the adverse report on Logan's measure is not an expression of the real views of the committee.

Guiteau's Health Failing.

Guiteau's attention having been called to the report that his body was to be sold for the purpose of being exhibited, he seemed quite indignant, and said that Scoville had no business to entertain such a proposition. He said he intended to will his body to some institution. Guiteau is beginning to show much nervousness and irritability. He is suffering from a severe cold which has inflamed his eyes. One of the jail officials, who has observed the prisoner closely, says he would not be surprised if he did not live to be hung, as his health appeared to be failing rapidly.

In Aid of Danenhower.

Secretary Hunt has designated Lieut. Giles B. Harber and Master W. H. Schertzel of the navy as officers to assist Lieut. Danenhower in the search for Lieut. Chipps and his crew, and they will take passage in the steamer Germanic, which leaves New York Saturday, with the expectation of reaching Irkutsk about the middle of March. Their instructions are not quite complete, but will include orders to spare neither effort nor expense in prosecution of the work assigned them.

Assistance for Pitkin.

Many congressmen have united with Grant, Conkling, Tom Murphy, Senator Jones of Nevada, and others, who are known to be in close accord with the administration, and written recommendations of Pitkin for the Mexican mission.

Melville's Search.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Secretary Hunt received the following from Minister Hoffman at St. Petersburg this afternoon: "Danenhower reports that he has been put on the sick list on account of his eyes. One is ruined and the other nearly well. Melville has been put in command. He knows the ground and will make a useful summer search."

Preparing for the Chinese Bill.

Senator Farley is actively exerting himself among his democratic colleagues to clear the way for the proposed bringing up of the Chinese bill at the earliest moment after the funding bill is disposed of. He says he is heartily in favor of the bill as reported from the foreign relations committee, and although he may offer amendment, will cordially aid its passage.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The following letter was issued this evening by ex-Secretary Blaine to the Associated Press:

Washington, Feb. 1.

I deem it due to justice to make a brief statement which I ask you to transmit to papers of your association to-night. On Monday morning last, Jan. 30, I addressed the following note to the president of the United States:

My Dear Mr. President: As Mr. Frelinghuysen has made allusion to a proposed congress of American nations in a dispatch which he has made public, and as the scope and design of that congress are greatly misunderstood and misrepresented, both at home and in Europe, I respectfully ask you will direct the publication of the original invitation. I have the original draft myself, but of course I do not feel at liberty to use it without your permission. If you do not wish to order its formal official publication, will you kindly grant me leave to use the copy at my discretion. Very sincerely,

JAMES G. BLAINE.

In the afternoon of the same day the President sent his private secretary to my residence with a verbal message that he saw no objection to granting my request, but that he had referred my note to the secretary of state. Yesterday I received a message from the chief clerk of the state department that Mr. Frelinghuysen would publish the dispatch when called for by congress. This morning I wrote a note to Senator Windom, chairman of committee on foreign relations, asking that he would introduce a resolution calling for the correspondence. When the New York papers came I found the document, though with many errors, published in the Herald. I understand it has been published in one paper in each of several large cities. The dispatch was obtained surreptitiously, from whom or by whom I do not know. It was no doubt hastened to a partial publication in order to deprive it of the widest circulation of the associated press, which I was anxious to secure for it, in order that the misrepresentations concerning the invitation to the peace congress might be definitely corrected. Very respectfully,

JAMES G. BLAINE.

Following is the corrected report of Mr. Blaine's dispatch inviting a conference of North and South American republics to meet in Washington:

Department of State, Washington, Nov. 29, 1881—Sir: The attitude of the United States with respect to the question of general peace on the American continent is well known through its persistent efforts for years past to avert the evils of warfare, or these efforts failing, to bring positive conflicts to an end through pacific counsel, or the advocacy of impartial arbitration. This attitude has been constantly maintained, and always with such fairness as to leave no room for impugning to our government any motive except the humane and disinterested one of saving kindred states of the American continent from the burdens of war. The position of the United States as the leading power of the new world might well give its government a claim to authoritative utterance for the purpose of quieting discord among its neighbors, with all of whom the most friendly relations exist. Nevertheless the good offices of this government are not, and have not at any time been tendered with a show of dictation or compulsion, but only as exhibiting the solicitous good will of a common friend. For some years past a growing disposition has been manifested by certain states of Central and South America to refer disputes affecting great questions of international relationship and boundaries to arbitration rather than the sword. It has been on several such occasions the source of profound satisfaction to the government of the United States to do so. This country is in a large measure looked to by American powers as their friend and mediator. The just and impartial counsel of the president in such cases has never been withheld, and his efforts have been rewarded by the prevention of sanguinary strife or angry contention between people whom we regard as brethren. The existence of this growing tendency convinces the president that the time is ripe for a proposal that shall enlist the good will and active co-operation of all the states of the western hemisphere, both north and south, in the interest of humanity, and for the common weal of these nations. He conceives that none of the governments of America can be less alive than our own to the dangers and horrors of a state of war and especially of war between kinsmen. He is sure that none of the chiefs of government on the continent can be less sensitive than he is to the sacred duty of making every endeavor to do away with the chances of fratricidal strife, and he looks with hopeful confidence to such action and assistance from them as will serve to show the broadness of our common humanity and the strength of the ties which bind us all together as a great and harmonious system of American commonwealths.

Impressed by these views, the president extends to all the independent countries of North and South America an earnest invitation to participate in a general congress to be held in the city of Washington on the 22d of November, 1882, for the purpose of considering and discussing the methods of preventing war between the nations of America. He desires that the attention of the congress shall be strictly confined to the one great object, that its sole aim shall be to seek a way to permanently avoid the horrors of a cruel and bloody contest between countries joined by ties of one blood and speech, or the even worse calamity of internal commotion and civil strife; that it shall regard the burdensome and far-reaching consequences of such a struggle, the legacies of exhausted finances, of oppressive debts, of onerous taxation, of ruined cities, of paralyzed industries, of devastated fields, of ruthless conquerors, of the slaughter of men, of the griefs of the widow and the orphan, and of the embittered resentment that long survive those who provoke them, and heavily afflict the innocent generation that comes after. The president is specially desirous to have it understood that in putting forth this invitation the United States does not assume the position of counselling or attempting through the voice of the congress to counsel any detrimental solution of existing questions which may now divide other countries of America. Such questions cannot properly come before the congress. Its mission is higher; to provide for the interests of all in the future and not to settle the individual differences of the present. For this reason especially the president has indicated a day for the assembling of the congress so far in the future as to leave good ground for hope that by the time named the present situation on the south Pacific coast will be happily terminated and that those engaged in the contest may take a possible part in the discussion and solution of the general question affecting in an equal degree the well being of all. It seems also desirable to disclaim in advance any purpose on the part of the United States to prejudice issues to be presented at the congress. It is far from the intent of this government to appear before the congress as in any sense the protector of its neighbors or the predestined and necessary arbitrator of their disputes.

The United States will enter into the deliberations of the congress on the same footing as other powers represented, and with the loyal determination to approach the proposed solution, not merely in its own interest with a view to assert its own powers, but as a single member among co-ordinate and coequal states. So far as the influence of this government may be beneficial it will be exerted in the direction of conciliating whatever conflicting interests of blood or government or historical tradition may necessarily come together, in response to a call embracing such vast and diverse elements. You will present the views herein contained to the minister of foreign affairs, enlarging if need be, in such terms as will readily occur to you, upon the great mission which is in the power of the proposed congress to accomplish in the interests of humanity, and upon the firm purpose of the United States to maintain a position of most absolute impartial friendship toward all. You will thereupon in the name of the president of the United States tender to his excellency the president the formal invitation to send two commissioners to the congress provided with such powers as will enable them to consider the questions brought before that body within the limit of submission contemplated by this invitation. The United States as well as the other powers will in like manner be represented by two commissioners, so that equality and impartiality will be amply secured in the proceedings [illegible] the congress. In delivering this invitation [illegible] the minister of foreign affairs, you will [illegible] dispatch to him and leave with him a copy [illegible] ting that an answer is desired by this go[illegible] as promptly as the just consideration [illegible] tant a proposition will permit. I am [illegible] dient servant,

[illegible]ES G. BLAINE.

Christianc[illegible] Answered.

Washington, Feb. 2[illegible] sent the following telegram to-day:

Hon. Isaac P. Christiancy, [illegible]sing, Mich.: Your first telegram was not und[illegible]od by me. Your confidential communication, whose publication you complain was addressed to me as secretary of state and related wholly to public affairs. I had no right to remove it or destroy it. It's information was as valuable to my successor as to myself. The files of the department are full of equally confidential notes, never intended for publication. Your note, no doubt, inadvertantly was sent to senate by Mr. Frelinghuysen with the remainder of the Peru-Chilean correspondence. I regret the untoward event, but had no power to prevent it. I had not intended your note should be included in the volume of my diplomatic correspondence.

Reduction of Tax Desired.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The committee on ways and means this morning heard the national distillers' committee in favor of a reduction of tax on distilled liquors to fifty cents a gallon, and to otherwise modify the laws. The draft of the bill was furnished by G. C. Wharton, of Kentucky, and S. C. Clark, of Peoria.

The three per cent. bill was considered and Plumb's amendment to-day to the surplus revenue over $100,000,000 to redemption of the public debt was debated. After some debate Plumb's amendment was lost, 27 to 25.

Debate upon Windom's funding operations was reopened on amendment by Teller declaring the new bonds legal and valid obligations.

Vest opposed ratification of Windom's act. He wanted the country to pass on the validity of bonds and the republican party to take the responsibility. He woke up Windom, who asked what was the particular act, the unconstitutionality of which he objected to. Vest replied that which he denounced was the act by which the secretary of treasury, without congress authorizing him to do it, called on creditors holding 5 and 6 per cent. bonds, and said to them, I will treat you with regard to the terms of which these bonds shall be continued.

Windom—The secretary of the treasury did no such thing.

Vest—The whole country knows the position of that matter, and there can be no mistakes about it.

Windom—but the senator himself does not know it.

Vest—I will not let the senator judge that for me. I believe he has violated the constitution, and am willing to leave that matter to the people. Congress had pointed out the way to meet the emergency of bonds falling due.

Windom (interrupting)—Right at that point I say the bonds did not become due, they were payable at the pleasure of the government, and they so stand to-day.

Vest—So much the better for my argument. The sovereign power of the country had spoken in regard to that. It had said the bonds were to be funded in three per cent. The secretary then had the alternative of either letting the bonds remain as they were or funding at three per cent.; but he violated the constitution in regard to the legislations of the government.

Windom said that at last, after his urgent call for three days for some one to point out the law violated, Senator Vest had specially indicated the law. It was a law which the president vetoed, and which never did become a law.

Vest—If the gentleman is satisfied with that statement I am willing to let it go to the country in that way.

Ingalls took up the argument, supporting Vest's view, and claiming that though an alleged republican president vetoed the 3 per cent. bill congress had nevertheless approved the measure, and it was in reality an expression of opinion by the people. Windom's argument was fallacious, and his declaration that the plan saved money was unworthy, inasmuch as it was illegal.

Windom got the best of the argument at one point by asking what Ingalls was going to do about this bond transaction.

Ingalls replied that he proposed to make it valid.

Windom—You cannot say that if you think the constitution violated.

Ingalls—Well, I can violate just as well as you can.

Windom—It is not right for the senate to take steps to refund money unconstitutionally withheld from the people.

Ingalls—I don't think it is. I would rather pay it out of my own pockets. [Laughter.]

Windom—Does the senator intend to pay any part of it out of his own pocket?

Ingalls—I shall if my bill passes to that effect. I shall pay my share of the taxes.

Windom then said that as Ingalls had shown what force there was in his own argument he would only add that $45,000,000 to $50,000,000 in 5's and 6's were continued in Europe, and the houses that managed the arrangement had employed the best legal talent on the question, which was thoroughly examined, and not one lawyer in Europe had raised a question or suggested a doubt as to the power of this government to do as it did. It had been reserved for the senator from Kansas and one or two others more astute than any lawyers of those great banking houses to raise this question.

Hawley said he would vote for the amendment, but would prefer to vote for a resolution declaring that Wm. Windom, late secretary of the treasury, by saving many millions of interest had violated no law and had conducted negotiations with wisdom and ability; had prominently identified himself with the most brilliant transaction in modern finance, and deserves well of his country.

The amendment by Ingalls was modified at the suggestion of Hoar, and then adopted by vote of 40 ayes to 10 noes.

It makes that section read: "That the secretary of the treasury is hereby authorized to receive at the treasury and office of any assistant treasurer of the United States, and any postal money order office, lawful money of the United States, to the amount of $50, or any multiple of that sum, for any bonds of the United States bearing 3½ per cent. interest, which are hereby declared valid, and to issue in exchange for them an equal amount of registered or coupon bonds."

Of the western senators, only Slater voted nay.

House.

Stephens from the coinage committee, reported bills to authorize the Stella, new metric gold coin, the goloid metric dollar, two dollar and fractions of a dollar, and goloid eagles, double eagles and half eagles.

Dunnell from the ways and means committee, reported a bill repealing export tax on tobacco.

Belford, chairman of the committee on public lands, reported back a bill for leasing arid and desert lands in Colorado; referred.

The postoffice appropriation bill was then considered.

Several amendments increasing clerk hire in postoffices, was rejected.

House adjourned pending discussion of increasing letter carrier's pay.

Bills Introduced.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Coke introduced a bill in the Senate to-day to amend the general act of March 3, 1875, granting to railroads the right of way through public lands of the United States, by providing that said act shall be applicable to the Indian territory or territories, and especially to lands occupied by Choctaws, Chickasaws, Cherokees, Creeks and Seminole Indians, as full and completely as if they had been named specifically in the act of March 3, 1875. Coke's bill also provides that section 5 of that act shall read as follows: "That the act shall not apply to any lands within the limits of any military park or other lands specifically reserved from sale, unless such right of way shall be provided for by act of congress heretofore passed."

Senator George introduced a bill to enforce forfeiture to the United States of lands heretofore granted to railroad corporations upon conditions which have not been complied with, and to apply the proceeds of their sale for educational purposes among states and territories.

The sub-committee of the house committee on judiciary in charge of a bill to prevent persons living in bigamy or polygamy, from holding offices of trust in the United States, has decided to report the bill to the full committee as amended by Representative Culberson, so that the provisions of the bill shall not apply to any person elected or appointed to office prior to the passage thereof.

Anti-Polygamy Bills Ready.

New York, Feb. 2.—A Graphic's Washington special says: The sub-committee of the judiciary committee, to which was referred the Shallenberger bill on Mormonism, is ready to report to the whole committee, recommending the passage of the measure, with some amendments. The bill provided originally simply that no polygamist should hold any office of trust or profit under the government. Amendments made to it include the delegate in congress especially, and an iron-clad oath is prescribed which he must take before he shall draw any pay, wherein he swears that he is not and never has been a bigamist or polygamist. It provides that he be subject to investigation by quo warranto before a United States court in the territory, and that his wives or alleged wives shall be competent witnesses against him. Culverson, democrat, on the sub-committee, unites with the republicans in the report. It is believed that the whole committee will authorize Willits to report his bill to the house, and that it will pass.

A democratic caucus agreed Wednesday to request the republicans to allow the adoption of a resolution to make Null Brown chief clerk of the senate.

FOREIGN NEWS.

A Powerful Protest Made Against Jewish Persecutions.

THE ROTHSCHILDS GIVE $50,000 TO THE RELIEF FUND.

Slosson Ahead in the Great International Billiard Match—News from the Jeannette Survivors.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

London, Feb. 1.—A meeting called by the lord mayor at the instance of distinguished citizens to protest against the outrages committed upon Jews in Russia was held to-day at Mansion House. The hall was crowded long before the hour at which proceedings were to begin. The lord mayor presided. Among the eminent persons present were Archbishop of Canterbury, Cardinal Manning, Earl of Shaftesbury, Sir Alexander T. Galt, Canon Farrar and Morely, several members of the Rothschild family, and all leading Israelites of the city. Alfred Tennyson was not present, but a letter from him was read in which he said: "I am dismayed at the madness and hatred evinced against the Jews. If the unspeakable barbarities being committed are not universally denounced it is only because they are so alien to the spirit of the age as to be almost incredible. The government however may have reason to fear that official intervention would do more harm than good." Letters from most of those who had signed requests for the meeting but were unable to be present were read; also one from Karl Blind and Spurgeon, the latter protesting as a non-conformer and liberal against the outrages upon Jews. Resolutions were adopted declaring while we disclaim the right to interfere in the internal affairs of Russia and desire the preservation of amicable relations with that country, it is our duty to express the opinion that the laws of Russia concerning Jews, tend to degrade her in the eyes of Christians. The earl of Shaftesbury, Cardinal Manning and Canon Farrar, spoke in support of the resolutions. The lord mayor was requested to forward a copy of the resolutions to Gladstone, in hope that the government, when opportunity arises, shall exercise its friendly influence in behalf of the persecuted Jews. A relief fund was opened and subscriptions received from many of those present.

What Mr. George would Like.

London, Feb. 1.—At the conference of the Land Nationalization Society, Henry George, of America, said it was an imperative question and must come to the front in England as it had done in America. In Ireland, private property in land was so unjust it must be altogether abolished.

Slosson Ahead.

Paris, Feb. 1.—The third evening of the International Billiard match ended with the American ahead again. The playing of both men was unusually spirited. Slosson made up his deficit of last night and ended with a total score of 1800. Vignaux added 485 to his score of yesterday, having a total of 1685 when the game closed for the evening. Slosson's average in to-night's playing was 76; Vignaux, 36. Slosson telegraphs his brother as follows: "I have the balls on the rail to resume play. Vignaux's best run was 223, Slosson's best run 398, the best on record."

Refused to Take an Oath.

Berlin, Feb. 2.—In landtag one of the new Schleswig or Danish members declined to take the oath, forfeiting his seat. This incident, it is claimed, afforded a significant proof of the unpopularity of the Prussian regime in North Schleswig and tenacity with which inhabitants defend their Danish nationality.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

Guatemala in Trouble.

Panama, Feb. 1.—The French government, upon learning that the supreme court of Guatemala had acquitted soldiers charged with assaulting the secretary of the French legation on Nov. 7th, has refused to receive the envoy of Guatemala, and a frigate has been ordered to Guatemala to demand satisfaction, 100,000 francs indemnity and imprisonment of the assailants.

CANADA.

Smuggling Complained of.

Montreal, Feb. 1.—In the so-called Pullman car smuggling case to-day, two ex-employes testified it was the custom to send cars built in Canada to Detroit and Chicago to be fitted up. They also testified that stationery, tickets, lamps and other articles were brought in from the states without payment of duty.

A Runaway Wife.

San Francisco, Feb. 2.—Belle Metzger, of Oakland, noted in yesterday's dispatches as abandoned and robbed in Chicago, is understood to be the runaway wife of E. W. Herget, of Oakland.

A San Francisco Failure.

The upholstering firm of J. W. Burnham & Co., have made an assignment. A meeting of creditors was held at which their liabilities are represented to be $47,500, and assets $36,000 in stock and $5000 in bills and accounts. The heaviest creditors are D. N. & E. Walter, to whom $22,000 is said to be due. Quite a large amount is owing to New York firms.

Shot and Killed.

Shasta, Feb. 2.—Last evening at Woodman's ranch on Cow creek, in this county, Isaac Milton shot and killed Frank Wentworth. Full particulars are not known.

A Citizen in Trouble.

Marysville, Feb. 2.—The grand jury of Sutter county found a true bill for rape against Charles Newcomb, an old and well-to-do farmer living near Live Oak. The offence alleged was committed nearly a year ago on the person of a girl of ten, niece of defendant's wife. Newcomb has been arrested and is now in jail. He has borne a good reputation, and there is talk of blackmail.

Two Shooting Affairs.

Placerville, Feb. 2.—Tuesday night an unknown person was fired upon by a most respectable lady of this city while he was at her bedroom window with burglarious intent. He was hit in the breast.

A man by the name of John Kinnis was shot here last night by a Chinaman while breaking in the windows of his house. He will die.

Seattle Notes.

Seattle, Feb. 2.—Gardner Kellogg was nominated for sheriff by the republican convention in this city to-day. He was the only candidate before the convention. The election is to fill the vacancy caused by the death of L. V. Wyckoff.

Geo. Oshe, foreman of a logging camp 15 miles from this city, had a serious accident yesterday. He was on a loaded logging car descending a steep hill, when the car became unmanageable and he was thrown off. He had a rib broken and was otherwise hurt.

The steamer Mississippi arrived to-day from San Francisco. Off Cape Mendocino she sustained a break in her machinery and came on in a crippled condition.

"Peace hath her victories," etc., and General A. T. Sharpe, of Ottawa, Kansas, so says the Republican, of that city, has found more substantial benefit for severe muscular rheumatism, by using St. Jacobs Oil, than from any other substance he ever tried.

EQUITABLE
LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY,
120 Broadway, New York.

LIFE INSURANCE PROFITS DEMONSTRATED BY ACTUAL SETTLEMENTS MADE PRIOR TO 1882.
The Society is now paying maturing Tontine Policies with the following remarkable results:
POLICIES CARRIED TEN YEARS WITH THE RETURN OF ALL PREMIUMS PAID AND INTEREST THEREON.
1st Example: Policy No. 43,643, issued May 25, 1871. Amount............$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (11 years)............5,504 00
The assured was entitled to draw, in cash, $6,455.80—having had besides $10,000 of assurance for eleven years. 118 per cent. of premiums paid, returnable in cash.
This example and those which follow show that LARGER PROFITS ARE PAID POLICY-HOLDERS THAN ARE NOW DECLARED BY ANY OTHER COMPANY.
2d Example: Policy No. 53,543 issued Dec. 30, 1870. Endowment 20 years. Tontine Period ten years. Amount............$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (10 years)............7,539 00
The assured on Dec. 30, 1880, was entitled to draw in cash, $10,033 30, 120 per cent of the premiums paid.
These results, although predicted by carefully made estimates, are
NOT ESTIMATES, BUT ACTUAL CASH RETURNS.
3d Example: Policy No. 41,651, issued March 27, 1870. Amount............$5,000 00
Total premiums paid............2,908 95
In this case the assured withdrew March 27, 1880, in cash, $3,312 45, being 114 per cent. of premiums paid.
Many policies will be thus paid in 1882, showing
CASH RETURNS OF FROM 100 TO 120 PER CENT. OF THE PREMIUMS PAID.
Assets securely invested $43,000,000. Surplus, nearly $10,000,000. The Society's popularity is shown by the fact that for the past eleven years the total amount of new policies issued has been greater than that of any other company in existence, thus making its average ANNUAL NEW BUSINESS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER COMPANY.
The Society pays death claims promptly and in full. Its policies are clear and concise, and with no unreasonable conditions.
EVERY POLICY BECOMES INCONTESTABLE AFTER THREE YEARS.

NATIONAL AID FOR SCHOOLS.

A Washington dispatch says the senate committee on education and labor will soon take up Logan's bill to appropriate all the money raised from the tax on liquors to school purposes. To many the proposition, when first broached, was a novel one; but report now says that the more it is discussed the better it is liked. Some were startled by a suggestion to dispose of $60,000,000 a year by a single act; but when the proposition is presented in the light of a scheme to save $60,000,000 now raised for school purposes by direct taxation, it is received with more favor. Members of congress from the southern states are said to be especially favorable to it. Free school education in those states is as yet far more limited than in the north, and necessarily so. This arises from several causes: First, the superior wealth of the northern states; second, the greater density of population, as a rule, in the northern states than in the southern; third, the large colored population of the south which hitherto has had no educational advantages; and fourth, the greater age of the northern school system.

In most of the northern states there are, moreover, large capitalized school funds which yield a steady revenue for school purposes. Here again the southern states are at a disadvantage. Few of them have school funds large enough to afford much relief from direct taxation. Again, the contrast of opulence between the two sections is very marked. Take an instance: The assessed value of taxable property in Massachusetts for 1881 was $1,584,756,802, while in Georgia, one of the wealthiest southern states, the assessed value of everything was only $238,934,126; and as the population of Georgia only amounts to 244,000 less than that of Massachusetts, it will be observed what immense advantage the latter has over the former in the ability to give superior education to her children. In point of wealth, Massachusetts could educate the children of half a dozen states of the same population better and at less expense per capita than the state of Georgia. The valuation of property in the one state shows a per capita of $888 21, while in the other it only amounts to $153 51. The same contrast in point of wealth will hold good between any two of the northern and southern states, where the population is about the same, and shows how different the southern states are in ability to successfully compete with the north in establishing and fostering free schools.

To the southern states, therefore, and the newer western ones, Logan's bill would be of inestimable advantage. To the south, in particular, where free schools were not heard of till after the great war, and where there is so large a colored population, hitherto uneducated and almost wholly without taxable property to support schools, the bill would be a great boon. And the changes that would be wrought by the system of education which it would introduce would be most powerful agencies in bringing about a new order of things in those states. The new educational system would fitly go with the new industrial system already making progress there; and together they would effect in less than twenty years a complete transformation. It is time for the general government to take more interest and lend more assistance in educational matters than it has done hitherto. The conditions of the great educational problem, viewed in a national sense, clearly demand it.

A writer on education in England gives a statement of the fruits of the free school system which was established by the British government only about twelve years ago. Prior thereto the schools were supported by voluntary subscription, and the children of the poor had small opportunities. Two-thirds of the children of the country received no education beyond what a portion of them picked up at Sunday schools, which consisted chiefly of the catechism. The grants of money made by parliament for the support of free schools in England were three or four millions of dollars a year, in addition to that derived from local taxation and private subscriptions. Each year since 1870 the number of children gathered in from the highways and byways has increased, and with each increase parliament votes larger grants of money. Last year—1881—the number of children between six and fifteen years of age attending public schools in England alone exceeded 3,500,000, and the money voted by parliament for the support of those schools was something over twelve millions of dollars; the amount contributed by local taxation was about the same, making a sum not less than twenty-four millions of dollars, or about $7 per pupil. In addition to this school fund from local taxation and parliament grants, every family able to pay is required to contribute so many pence a week per pupil sent. Some ten or twelve millions of dollars a year are raised in this way, so that the annual sum spent on public schools in England is not much short of $40,000,000, or say about $11 per pupil in attendance at the schools. The population of England (exclusive of Scotland and Ireland) is just about half that of the United States. The money spent last year on the public schools of this country was estimated at $78,375,000, which is not more in proportion to children educated than the English spend. It would be much more, were it not for the very meagre provision made for public education in our southern states. Since it seems plainly the duty of the general government to lend its aid for providing educational facilities for the great numbers of people, particularly in the south, who have them not, it would seem difficult to give a valid reason why the Logan bill would not be a very proper scheme for the purpose.

BREADSTUFFS EXPORTED.

Incidental to remarks heretofore published regarding grain exports from the United States to Europe since 1860, detailed information as to the exports of 1881, compared with those of 1880, may be presented. The comparison furnishes many interesting and valuable points of information. The entire exports of breadstuffs for the two years were as follows,—flour in barrels and grain in bushels:

	1881.	1880.	Decrease.
Flour	6,715,837	6,763,165	47,328
Wheat	118,203,939	143,635,365	35,431,375
Corn	72,474,401	113,655,229	41,180,828
Other grains	3,344,180	5,694,268	2,350,103
Total	234,243,843	293,419,124	69,175,281

The decrease in the value of exports was much less than the decrease in quantity. The percentages of the total (value) exported from each port during each year, and also during the last half of each year, were:

	—Year.—		—Last half year.—
	1881.	1880.	1881.	1880.

The four eastern ports, (Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore) exported 73.3 per cent. of the whole in 1881, against 81.8 in 1880, and the two Pacific ports 17.4 per cent of the whole in 1881, against 9.2 in 1880. That is, while the crop failed to a great extent on the Atlantic side, it increased largely on the Pacific. Whether there will be an aggregate increase on this side during the year 1882 cannot yet be told; but there is probability of a decrease, since matters do not look well in California for a full crop. The rain tables there show badly. But the increase of wheat production in Oregon and Washington may compensate the probable loss in California.

A VICTIMIZED CANDIDATE.

There is a revelation of the inwardness of last year's political contest in Ohio which ought to point a moral, as it certainly adorns a tale. This apocalypse relates to Bookwalter and his barrel. It comes to the world through the investigations of prominent newspapers, and has made a great stir among the democratic brethren of Ohio. It was believed that Bookwalter was an available candidate for the governorship because he was rich and would "bleed" freely. He was not a politician or a statesman. He had had so little to do with politics that it was not known whether he was a democrat or republican. Afterwards it was ascertained that he had never voted a democratic ticket. But he had wealth, and the fashion of nominating the man with a barrel determined the convention in his favor.

The story now is—and it comes from Mr. Bookwalter's confidential admirers—that the leader of the democratic hosts was "betrayed." After the campaign committee had been made up, Mr. Bookwalter was "assessed" for the alleged "expenses of the campaign," and paid $6000 to start with. But this was barely enough for the committee, and afforded nothing for outside work. So Bookwalter was "assessed" again and again. His friends say "the demands of the executive committee were unceasing"; and the world may well believe it. These demands soon put Mr. Bookwalter into an inquiring state of mind. "There had been but little expense at Columbus, and during the entire campaign only one document requiring any outlay was issued from the state headquarters." Mr. Bookwalter could not imagine where all the money was going, and began to fear that he was a victim of misplaced confidence. To the continued demands from Columbus he responded to the amount of $12,000, which sum was raised by the contributions of other candidates to $18,000. Still the Columbus junto was insatiate. Five days before the election its chairman telegraphed: "Hon. John W. Bookwalter, Springfield, Ohio; send $5000. Ask no questions, but send at once." Bookwalter was not so green. He did not "send at once;" he did not send at all. He concluded that he must draw the line somewhere, and he drew it on $12,000.

This, however, was only the sum handed out to the committee. All the impecunious newspaper organs of the state were clamorous for money. The amount they got out of the unfortunate candidate, we are told, was "not less than $20,000, nor more than $22,000." We are further told that the "old-liners" deserted the new democratic wheel-horse in large numbers. The committee became very angry because Bookwalter would not pay and ask no questions. Then it came out that the party managers were trying to swap off Bookwalter for votes on the legislative ticket. When the latter began to complain of the costliness, treachery and mismanagement of the campaign, the chairman of the committee published a statement accusing him of not keeping his agreements and of having closed the canvass while still owing the committee $1500. And this significant remark was added by the chairman, in justification of the raid made on the candidate's purse: "Mr. Bookwalter was probably the wealthiest man ever nominated by the democratic party in Ohio." In other words he was rich, and therefore it was right to rob him. It is intimated that Mr. Bookwalter and his friends cherish a sense of wrong, which will make music in the democratic camp in Ohio when the proper time comes.

A movement is on foot to make the canals of New York free. Last year the legislature of that state appointed a special committee to investigate the subject and report recommendations. The committee has submitted its report, and recommends that the canals should be free from tolls, and the charge for their maintenance be borne by general tax upon the property of the state. A constitutional amendment would be necessary to this end, and so urgent does the committee regard the necessity for speedy action that it recommends the submission of the question to the people at a special election before the time for opening navigation next spring. This proposed promptness shows how imminent the committee regards the danger of rival channels of transportation to the commercial supremacy so long enjoyed by New York.

Since the accession of Arthur to the presidency only 300 of the "306" who stood for Grant and the third-term conspiracy at Chicago have put in claims upon the administration for office. The remaining six are Arthur himself, who has the presidency; Logan of Illinois, and Cameron of Pennsylvania, who are already "fixed" with senatorships; Baily of Pennsylvania, who has been elected treasurer of that state; Mouatt of the same state, who has been sent to the penitentiary, and Conkling of New York, who has been "let out" of official position and political influence by his own folly and the voice of his state. The other 300 are so boring Grant for office that he is forced to remain away from Washington.

Kansas affairs are in a most remarkable "kink," or "snarl." The supreme court has just rendered a decision that the constitution of the lower branch of the legislature during the past two sessions has been illegal, so that no action taken at either of these sessions is valid. It is asserted that as the prohibition amendment to the constitution was proposed at one of these sessions it is invalid; and many other ugly consequences are said to be involved.

The value of Columbia river exports for last month was $1,015,988, against $187,425 for January, 1881. Twenty cargoes were taken out, all but three of them wheat. The coastwise exports for January were in the neighborhood of $300,000, making the total value of all exports during that month $1,300,000, an increase of $1,000,000 over those of the corresponding month of last year.

The earnings of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company for December last were $373,700, against $157,574 for December, 1880. But it should be remembered that the ice blockade of December, 1880, almost stopped business. The entire earnings of the company for the year 1881 on ocean, river and rail divisions were $4,391,681, a gain of $1,053,673 over the earnings of 1880.

Mr. Halstead of the Cincinnati Commercial, expresses the opinion that the breaking up of the solid south will make the "imperial state of New York" a comparatively unimportant factor in 1884.

C. E. Patterson was elected speaker of the New York house Wednesday.

CITY.

EJECTED FROM HER HOME.—About three weeks ago Mr. Van De Lashmutt brought suit against a Mrs. Grochl to obtain possession of his property, on the corner of Caruthers and Water streets, which she had been occupying, and received a judgment in his favor. The woman did not, however, vacate the premises, and yesterday Constable Grant was detailed to eject her. When he arrived at the house and told her what he wanted, she struck at him. He then came back and made a complaint in Justice Bybee's court, charging her with assault. Grant then in company with Constable Sprague went to the house, and took the woman, with six small children the oldest not more than eight years old, to the county jail. Mrs. Grochl here stated that the two officers put all her household goods on the sidewalk and that she wanted some one to send for her husband, who was working on a building on the macadamized road a few miles from town. She also said her children had all been sick, one having just recovered from an attack of varioloid, and pointed out the eruptions on the child to prove her statement. This of course made it impossible to keep the woman in the jail for fear of a spread of the disease among the prisoners, and the story was told to Judge Rice, who sent her back to her home. It can not be determined what will become of the case, but it seems as though the officers act legally in the matter, they should have shown some humanity. The amount involved is said to be five dollars. One of the deputies at the court house sent a man for the woman's husband.

ACCIDENTS.—A few days ago Alex. Borthwick, aged 22, was driving an ox through the timber a few miles north of the Cascades and struck his leg against a stump, slightly bruising it. The wound would have amounted to nothing had he not contracted a heavy cold which brought on erysipelas in the leg. He was conveyed to St. Vincent's hospital Wednesday night, and it is likely he will be able to pull through without an amputation. Patrick Kennedy, a coal heaver on the steamer Columbia, dislocated his left shoulder while dumping a bucket of coal. Drs. H. E. and Wm. Jones set the arm and he is now resting easily. Harry Blanchard, a bridge carpenter, fell from a trestle about four miles from Hood river and broke both bones of his right leg directly above the ankle. He had the fracture reduced at the Cascades and is now at St. Vincent's.

A NAUGHTY BOY.—Some time since J. H. Brenner, proprietor of the Esmond, discharged a bell boy named Herman Deticke, for stealing some small articles and asking guests for money. The boy tried to get even with Jake by going to several stores in town and ordering feather dusters to be taken to the hotel. Jake of course would not receive nor pay for them, and reported the facts of the matter to the police authorities. Yesterday Capt. Gritzmacher arrested the boy on the corner of Fourth and Washington streets and had him lodged in the city jail. The lad is about thirteen years old and has been living in town. The case will be heard in the police court to-day.

SENTENCED.—Yesterday morning ten prisoners were taken before Judge Deady, in the U. S. circuit court, charged with selling liquor to Indians. [illegible] Lillis, who was imprisoned Oct. 24, 188[illegible], [illegible], imprisoned Nov. 1, E. S. Graden, imprisoned Nov. 1, Frank Thompson, imprisoned Dec. [illegible] Pickens, imprisoned Nov. 21, and Chas. [illegible], imprisoned Nov. 11, were all sentenced to [illegible] in the county jail. Wm. Roland was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary, John W. [illegible] days in jail, John Burns to 14 days, and [illegible] to 30 days. Roland is an old offender, this is the second time he has been arrested on this [illegible].

THE RIVER.—At 5 o'clock last night it was raining at points on the Columbia between Portland and The Dalles, and the mercury was up to 40. From The Dalles to Ainsworth a strong up-stream wind prevailed and the thermometer ranged between 30 and 40. No further interruption to navigation need be expected this winter, unless another cold snap sets in soon. The middle river is still closed from The Dalles to Crate's point, three miles, and no freight can be handled for the present. Passengers and mails are conveyed by teams to Crate's point and get through without delay, but no through tickets are sold.

A POWDER BLAST.—Many residents of Portland and East Portland were startled about four o'clock yesterday afternoon by the sound of an explosion which shook windows on both sides of the river. It was only a blast in a gravel bank near the head of Sullivan's gulch on the east side of the O. R. & N. Co.'s grade. A young lady who was passing near the scene with her brother fainted from fright and was taken to a neighboring residence until she recovered strength enough to walk home. Hereafter these blasts will be frequent and occasion no alarm.

A NEW STATION.—On the O. R. & N. Co's Baker City line at the mouth of Meacham creek, upon the Umatilla river, twenty-two miles east of Pendleton, is a station known as Mikecha. It is pronounced My-kee-cha (ch as in arch). As it will become a prominent shipping point when the road is completed, and as there is certain to be a dispute about its proper spelling and pronunciation, will some reader of THE OREGONIAN, familiar with Indian dialects, favor us with the derivation and meaning of the word or words?

THIEVES CAUGHT.—Deputy Sheriff Caywood and [illegible] Simmons arrived in town yesterday evening with the men who are charged with having robbed [illegible] Levens of $225 a few days since at the [illegible]. They were taken to the county jail where they gave their names as Fred McCloud, Wm. Mc[illegible], R. S. Darrough, W. H. Cornelius and A. Law[illegible]. All were caught at the Cascades without any trouble.

LODGE ELECTION.—At the regular meeting of Lily Lodge No. [illegible], I. O. G. T., the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Z. T. Wright, W. C. T.; [illegible] Kellogg, W. V. T.; C. E. Webber, W. S.; [illegible], W. A. S.; Mamie Campbell, W. T.; [illegible], W. C.; Estice Hill, W. I. G.; Frank [illegible], Sentinel; J. J. Seely, P. W. C. T.; J. H. [illegible], Deputy. Installation Tuesday Feb 7th.

AGROUND.—The steamer Fleetwood ran aground Wednesday morning in making her up trip in the Willamette slough, where she remained 23 hours before getting off. Upon starting from the bar yesterday her propeller struck a rock and was slightly damaged. She arrived in the city about 5 o'clock yesterday evening.

COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE.—Gov. Thayer has commuted the sentence of Joseph Douglas, a convict in the Oregon penitentiary, sent from Wasco county for the term of two years, from April, 1881, for the crime of larceny; sentence commuted on account of extra work performed on the Insane Asylum building.

TO SALEM.—Lee Ping Bo, the Chinaman who was found guilty of larceny in both the lower and circuit courts, was taken to Salem this morning in charge of E. L. Backinstos to serve his sentence. It will be remembered that during both trials he was held under three thousand dollars bond.

SLANG, THE SWILL STEALER.—Jim Slang, the Chinaman sentenced to pay $40 fine or serve 20 days in jail for stealing swill, after remaining in the county bastile for a few days, yesterday concluded to pay his fine, and was released.

FALSE ALARM.—At a quarter before 11 last night a box alarm of fire was turned in from box 5. It was the work of some hoodlum, as a broken key was found in the door of the box. The department responded promptly.

TO SAIL EARLIER.—The steamer Columbia will sail for San Francisco at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, seven hours earlier than her schedule time.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Yaquina arrived at Pacific City last night at 9 with 200,000 feet of lumber from [illegible] harbor.

Mr. Chas. A. M. Myers, has accepted the position of head accountant in the office of the Home Mutual Insurance Co.

Gov. Thayer has appointed James F. Brown of Dallas, notary public for Oregon, and Philip H. Hoffman of Baltimore, Md., commissioner for Oregon.

Mr. Ben Macauly, mail agent on the east side, presented the mailing clerks of THE OREGONIAN with a demijohn of fresh cider to which they did ample justice and for which he has their thanks.

MILITARY AND PERSONAL.

[Vancouver Independent.]

Capt. E. W. Stone, 21st infantry, is on the sick list.

Asst. Surgeon Bartholf, Fort Lapwai, has been granted a leave of absence for 15 days.

Com. Sergt. Jas. M. Don, Fort Stevens, has been assigned to duty at Fort Townsend.

The garrison at Fort Cœur d'Alene is luxuriating in fur caps and gloves. Enough ice has been put up to supply the post during the summer.

There was a very pleasant social gathering last Friday evening at the residence of Gen. Morrow, at which a number of Portland guests were present.

The principal musician at Fort Cœur d'Alene, Emil Sattes, took with hook and line in 1881, 4,026 trout, the largest one weighing ten pounds.

Last week Major John A. Kress sent to Olympia the arms and munitions belonging to Washington territory, consisting of 478 Springfield rifles and 15,000 cartridges.

Private Eberly, who shot the man on the target range at Walla Walla, and was tried by court martial, to be dishonorably discharged and imprisoned one year, has been brought to Vancouver to serve his sentence.

The bishops of the Mormon church have decided to prohibit round dancing. The first vote, however, was not unanimous, as the bishop who had not the gout yet voted in favor of the recreation, but the next day this one had a touch of inflammatory rheumatism, and that settled it.—Philadelphia News.

A FRIGHTFUL FATE.

Mrs. Medler and Two Children Burned to Death near Walla Walla.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

WALLA WALLA, Feb. 2.—About 10 o'clock last night a fire broke out in a farm house owned and occupied by Julius Wissick, situated about five miles from this city. The building and contents were completely destroyed. Mrs. Eliza Medler, aged 42, her daughter Emma Isadore Medler, aged 19, and son Arthur, aged 6, were burned to death. The other inmates escaped with little or no clothing. The fire is supposed to have caught from a match dropped by the mother, who, it is presumed got up to see to the boy who was sick. Mrs. M. is a sister of Julius Wissick. Her husband is now in the John Day country looking for a ranch. The house and contents were worth about $4000; no insurance.

HOTEL BURNED AT SAND POINT, I. T.

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 3, 1882.

THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

The name of the Butter creek postoffice, Umatilla county, has been changed to Vinson.

The revival meetings in Pendleton have continued with unabated interest since Rev. Driscall's services January 8th, and though no special advertising has been made and no extraordinary services arranged, the attendance has never fallen below 60 and has often risen to 100 on a week-day evening.

On the 21st of January, as Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Foster, of Union county, were journeying in a sleigh between La Grande and Oro Dell, and when near the latter place the horses became frightened and jumped over an embankment sixteen feet high, falling upon the ice on the river below. Both occupants of the sleigh were injured, Mrs. Foster so severely that she has been unable since to leave her bed. She is, however, recovering. Their escape with their lives is regarded as wonderful, as they had about a ton of freight aboard, which fortunately fell clear of everything. Both horses escaped injury.

Union County Record: The examination of Cochran, Wade and Duncan, the parties charged with the murder of John Hawk, still continues. About 20 witnesses on the part of the prosecution have been examined up to the time of going to press. A great deal of time is consumed in the arguments of counsel, and at the present rate the examination will not be concluded for several days. This prosecution will incur heavy expense to the taxpayers of Union county, there being about 100 witnesses summoned, who have traveled distances ranging from 50 to 100 miles. The expense will probably be $400 or $500 per day.

During the last four years Oregon has exported to the eastern states not less than 100,000 head of beef cattle. Most of these cattle were produced in the counties east of the Cascades. The largest purchasers of cattle within the state were the firm of Lang & Ryan, of Leavenworth, Kansas, who bought 20,000 head in Grant county alone in the spring of 1880. In the south end of Grant county are several "cattle kings" who are furnishing beef to San Francisco, their shipping point being Winnemucca, on the Central Pacific railroad. The two largest of these, W. B. Todhunter, Camp Harney, and Peter French, of Stein's mountain, neither of whom ship less than 25 car loads, 300 head at a drive. Hugh J. Glenn, the great wheat man of Colusa county, California, has over 5,000 head of cattle in Grant county, and he is not the largest breeder there. On the tributaries of the John Day there are many thousand head, but they are divided among several owners.

Western Oregon.

George Peskins, an old resident of Yamhill county, was prostrated by paralysis last week.

Mrs. Sarah Miller, of West Chehalem, died at her home in that valley on the 11th of January of consumption.

Yamhill county has sent the full quota of her state tax to Salem, the first county to be receipted in full by the state treasurer this year.

Southern Oregon.

There are 30 men on the pay roll of the Empire City stave mill.

The sides of the new vessel at North Bend are planked up about two-thirds of the way, and work on her is pushed steadily ahead.

The wreck of the schooner Precursor, that was lost near the mouth of the Coquille, has been sold for $237. She cost $3600, and was insured for $2500.

R. D. Hume intends starting an extensive salmon hatchery on Rogue river next summer. The result of a small hatchery established by him has been so satisfactory as to justify a permanent establishment.

A paper circulated in portions of Coos county to raise money to continue the work at Rocky Point, has not met with the success that was hoped for it. The sum of $775 has been subscribed, A. Lobree heading the list with $100 and E. B. Dean & Co. following with $200.

An old gentleman named Budd, who resides a short distance above Coquille City, met with an accident at Bunch, Bennett & Co.'s mill last week, which will probably cost him his life. He was not an employe of the mill, but was around there for some purpose, and when the accident occurred was in the act of crossing the edger table. It seems that he sat down upon the table, and in attempting to swing his leg over it was caught by the saw, which first cut the foot in two and then cut upward toward the ankle, taking the limb entirely off with the exception of small particles of flesh and skin. At last advices he was alive, but under the influence of opiates. He may survive, but it is not probable. Budd is an old resident of that locality, about 82 years of age, is in indigent circumstances and has an aged, infirm and blind wife.

Washington Territory.

The stock firm of Lang & Ryan have 1500 head of cattle in the John Day valley which they will drive east as soon as the spring opens.

C. L. Jaques, of Colfax, died at Cœur d'Alene mission January 29th of pneumonia. The remains were returned to the former place and buried by the Odd Fellows.

The house of Edward Lindsley, about four miles from Yakima City, was burned last week. The fire caught from the stove pipe, which passed through the shingle roof. Loss about $500.

Scarlet fever is raging in the vicinity of Colton, Whitman county, five children having died from its effects within a week. Three were children of J. H. and Olive Bolin and comprised their entire family.

Charles Schanno of Yakima has bargained for a number of quail to be shipped up as soon as arrangements can be perfected to take them out from The Dalles. They are intended to stock the Ahtanum valley.

A limestone quarry has been discovered on the Yakima about 20 miles above Ellensburg. The discoverers are preparing a kiln in which to burn the same and propose to place it in Ellensburg early in the season.

Mrs. Dr. Morrison, of Yakima City, when alighting from a hack one day last week fell, striking her face violently on the frozen ground and rendering her insensible. Her injuries were so serious as to confine her to her bed for several days.

The Oregon Improvement company's new town on Rebel Flat was laid off in lots and blocks last week, and received the name of Endicott. The tract surveyed embraces about fifty acres. The lots will be 100 feet square and ten to the block, without alleys.

A lot of fire brick for the Irondale furnace is on the way from England. It is expected that the company will soon employ a practical furnace man from Lake Superior, accustomed to working magnetic ores, and will reduce the workings of their smelting works to a scientific basis.

The hay supply in Yakima county will exceed the demand this year, unless the latter part of the winter is of unusual severity. This time last year the situation was very different. People throughout the bunch grass regions were scouring the country on all sides in quest of feed with which to pull through the winter.

The sawmill at Port Discovery is to have a planer put in for work on large timbers, a new gang, and other improvements of the modern sawmill, increasing its daily capacity from 75,000 feet to 100,000. Mr. Ackerson is now on the Sound to start these works, as also to see about putting the tug S. L. Mastick in the best condition possible.

The recent cold snap was of sufficient severity to freeze up the Skagit river, and fill the mouth of the stream with ice so thick that a stern-wheel steamer could not work her way through it, even after backing and breaking the ice with her wheel. The steamer Josephine made three different ineffectual attempts to work her way through, and finally returned to Seattle, bringing back the freight she had taken away. It is supposed the wind prevailing for the past day or two, however, has broken the ice up so that boats can get through.

The contract for building the mill for the Port Townsend Mill Co. has been let to Geo. W. Bullene, of Seattle, for $21,000. The mill is to be 226 feet long, and is to cut 30,000 feet of lumber every ten hours. It is to be ready for work by July 12th next—so there will doubtless be some lively work done in the building. Plans and specifications, even to the minutest detail, are the basis of the contract. The mill will have a powerful engine with three boilers, and all the machinery will be new and of lately approved patterns. The mill will be located on Point Hudson, using the lagoon outside the breakwater in which to hold logs.

There are at present 40 patients in Providence hospital, Seattle, three of whom are women. One of the patients is an old man named Green, of Tacoma, 70 years of age, who has cancer of the throat. The hospital can accommodate but 43 patients, and the sisters have concluded to commence the construction of a large three-story hospital on their grounds adjoining the present building as soon as the plans and specifications, which are now under way, can be completed. The foundation will be of brick or stone, and the structure of wood. It will be arranged after the most approved hospital style, and will accommodate 70 patients. Hot and cold water will be forced through all portions of the house, which will be supplied with all the modern conveniences. The main building and one wing will be completed during the present season, and the second wing will be added as soon as the wants of the establishment require it. Every room in the building will be heated by steam, and properly aired by patent ventilators.

British Columbia.

The new craft being built to take the place of the Elizabeth Irving, which was burnt to the water's edge some months ago, will be a model of beauty, utility and comfort, and will be lighted by electricity. Capt. John Irving has gone to San Francisco to order new and powerful machinery for the beautiful craft.

At New Westminster on Saturday last the weather continued cold, the thermometer showing 11 degrees of frost. In the afternoon ice in the Fraser river was moving, but before Sunday morning the river was frozen over. Advices from Kamloops state that the weather has recently been extremely cold, the thermometer going down to 14 degrees below zero. In Cariboo the snowfall is in excess of the average, being five feet deep. In the vicinity of the town of Barkerville, there are some three feet of snow. At Yale the cold snap has come down with unusual severity, and last Saturday morning the thermometer was 6 degrees below zero. The river was full of ice and freezing up rapidly. At Clinton on Saturday morning, it was extremely cold. Thermometer 36 below zero and prospects of still greater severity. At Cache Creek, 18 degrees below. So far stock has not suffered, ranchers being well provided with feed.

THURSDAY EVENING, Feb. 2.

The week has been extremely dull and the aggregate of transactions is small. The top price during the week has been $1 60 per cental, though at that figure the market has been weak on two or three occasions. The English markets are firm to-day at a rate which will warrant payment of $1 60 here.

The last charter was at 72s 6d, but to-day the San Francisco tonnage market is reported weaker, and this market of course is in sympathy. There are now four disengaged ships in port, and several others to arrive will soon be on the market.

Receipts of grain from the Willamette valley are light.

THE ENGLISH MARKET.

The Mark Lane Express, reviewing the week ended Saturday last, says: Growing crops remain very healthy. Foreign breadstuffs are weaker. In the flour trade the nominal supply exceeds the demand, and the possibility of larger receipts from the United States exercised rather a depressing influence. Maize firmly held. Fine barley, firm; owing to scarcity of grinding sorts, dull and declined 3d@6d Friday. For oats there was slack demand and prices declined. Cargoes off coast, weaker; 11 cargoes arrived, of which 7 were sold and 6 withdrawn. Red winter (Tuesday), 54s 3d, but that price was unobtainable; Friday, No. 2 Cal., 53s. Sales of English wheat during the week, 49,886 qrs at 46s 3d per qr, against 34,948 qrs at 42s 6d for corresponding week last year.

Portland Produce Market.

There is no change in flour. Oats are very weak. Unfavorable advices from California weakens the general opinion of higher prices in the spring. Nothing but choice oats will bring our quotation. Barley is scarce. The demand is good, and prices are likely to advance. Mill feed, except shorts, which is very firm, is decidedly weaker. There is no change in cured meats. The country packing is coming in very freely, and a decline in that class of meats may be expected very soon. Lard is unchanged. Dried apples are very dull. Sun dried apples are almost unsalable. Dried plums are also very dull. There is more inquiry for hops at San Francisco, and there is a possibility for brisk business in the spring with an advance in price. Hides are unchanged. Heavy shipments from California have dropped the price of butter. The market is overstocked with country store butter which it is difficult to sell. The supply of brine butter is very excessive, with hardly any demand whatever. This is probably due to the mild winter. Onions are very firm at $1 50 per cental. Eggs have advanced to twenty cents, and are firm at that price. The supply of cheese is getting rather small, but we hardly think that there will be any further advance this spring. Apples have advanced and all qualities find ready sale. Chickens have advanced. There is considerable inquiry for Columbia river salmon in kits and the market is but lightly supplied. Potatoes are very weak at quotations. Receipts in San Francisco have been exceedingly large and the price has dropped in consequence.
